

Andre Da Silva-Jenkins

YEAR OF CALL: 2025

Andre is a first six pupil. He accepts appropriate instructions in all of Chambers' areas of practice, including criminal and extradition law.?

Andre began his pupillage in October 2026 under the supervision of Francesca Levett.

Before commencing pupillage, Andre worked as a parliamentary staffer to a Member of Parliament and the Minister for Policing and Crime. In this role he led on complex MOJ and crime-related casework, and facilitated pro bono legal clinics for constituents facing eviction proceedings.

Prior to this, Andre interned at the National Pro Bono Centre, where he worked on a research project and reformed the Centre's database to map pro bono services across the UK. He also acted as a volunteer advocate with the School Exclusion Project, during which he represented families challenging permanent exclusion decisions. This involved drafting and presenting submissions to local authority Independent Review Panels.
