Overview

A highly persuasive advocate with a calm, measured, yet robust courtroom manner. Kevin took silk in 2019, building upon his heavyweight practice in the fields of financial crime and serious crime.

Kevin is ranked in the Legal 500 in Fraud - Crime, new silks section.

‘ Noted for his expertise in complex financial crime cases. ’

Legal 500 2020.

Kevin has considerable experience in cases of serious and organised crime, terrorist finance, serious sexual offences including those against children and offences of homicide. Kevin is often instructed for cases where multiple vulnerable victims and witnesses are involved. Kevin is a sought-after leader in large scale cases of financial crime including those that fall within the complexities of cybercrime, bribery and corruption, and revenue evasion.

Kevin also has an established practice within the field of professional regulation and discipline, deploying his expertise in criminal cases concerning medical professionals, including where death has occurred.

‘His diverse practice includes advice on bribery matters.’

Legal 500 2019.

Kevin advises both individuals and corporates, local authorities and government departments alike. Kevin advises on private prosecutions and accepts Direct Access instructions.

With a passion for justice, Kevin regularly publishes articles to raise profile for underrepresented and serious subjects. Kevin has campaigned for the release of a prominent abducted Bangladeshi lawyer and provides regular training in his areas of expertise, recently on Human Rights to Somali lawyers through the Foreign Commonwealth Office.

Professional Panel Appointments

Prior to taking silk, Kevin's experience and expertise were reflected in the following appointments:

Appointed to the 'A' Panel of Serious Fraud Office (SFO) advocates.

Level 4 advocate on the Crown Prosecution Service (CPS) Unified Prosecution List, the specialist Central Fraud Group Panel, Counter-Terrorism panel, Serious Crime Group panel and Proceeds of Crime Panel.

Appointed to Band 'C' (10 years call and above) on the General Dental Council's (GDC) panel of advocates.

Professional Memberships

Fraud Lawyers Association.

Association of Regulatory & Disciplinary Lawyers.

Asset Recovery, Civil Fraud & Confiscation

Ensuring financial recovery is embedded within case strategy, Kevin draws upon his considerable expertise in all aspects of restraint and confiscation, including; cases involving Bitcoin and other crypto-currency assets, corporate veil cases, 3rd-party interests, enforcement receivers, hidden and multiple jurisdiction assets, inadequacy, reconsideration of assets and intervening in matrimonial proceedings.

Kevin also has experience in complex VAT MTIC cases before the First Tier Tribunal.

Business Crime

For more than a decade, Kevin has been leading in cases of serious fraud and money laundering. Reflecting this expertise, prior to taking silk, Kevin was a specialist advocate on the SFO's Panel A and the Serious Fraud Division's Fraud Panel at Level 4.

He is naturally talented in grappling with financial details in order to provide incisive strategic advice then in presenting complex cases to juries clearly and powerfully.

Kevin's wide experience as a leader in complex financial crime includes carbon credits and precious commodities 'boiler rooms', revenue evasion, vishing and courier fraud, frauds on institutional pension funds, insider fraud within companies, fraudulent trading, Ponzi investment schemes, multi-jurisdictional money laundering, cybercrime and organised benefit frauds.

Kevin is also an experienced leader in bribery and corruption, including cases alleging corrupt sales of government land and procurement fraud.

Kevin advises both individuals under investigation for financial crime and organisations seeking to determine whether wrongdoing has occurred within their domains.

Kevin is an established leader in criminal cases involving medical professionals including dentists, medical doctors and optometrists. Through this, Kevin is aplomb in calling and cross-examining medical-legal experts, analysing medical records, liaising with parallel regulatory proceedings and navigating NHS regulations and patient confidentiality issues.

Kevin accepts instructions in Direct Access cases involving financial crime and also in private prosecutions.

Criminal Defence

Kevin has a wealth of experience in serious and organised crime. He is ranked in the Legal 500 in Fraud, Crime.

Kevin has a particular reputation for guiding seemingly difficult cases of serious crime to successful conclusions through fine strategic judgement and an unwavering determination.

Criminal Prosecutions

Kevin has a wealth of experience in serious and organised crime and, prior to taking silk, was a specialist Level 4 advocate on both the CPS specialist Counter-Terrorism and Serious and Organised Crime Panels.

Kevin's wide expertise in serious crime includes leading in modern slavery and terrorist financing, trading in firearms, large scale drugs importations, serious sexual offences and homicide.

Professional Discipline & Regulatory

Kevin has an established practice within the field of professional discipline, with particular emphasis on cases involving probity and fraud, drawing upon his ample experience of criminal cases involving medical professionals.

Kevin's wide experience includes cases involving; where a patient subsequently died, serious allegations where erasure is likely, parallel criminal and regulatory cases, serious dishonesty, want of integrity and where there are investigations with multiple regulators.

Notwithstanding a calm and positive manner, Kevin has a reputation within the field of professional discipline for forensic, and when required, rigorous cross-examination of both lay and expert witnesses.
