

Charles Bennett

YEAR OF CALL: 1972

Charles practises in all main areas of chancery, commercial and company law, landlord and tenant, personal injury, wills and probate, professional negligence, insolvency and insurance.

Overview

Charles practises in all main areas of chancery, commercial and company law, landlord and tenant, personal injury, wills and probate, professional negligence, insolvency and insurance.

Additional information

Charles is the author of "Drafting Residential Leases" (1st Edition 1984, as Residential Leases, 2nd & 3rd Editions 1990 and 1995).

Charles is an Honorary legal adviser, University House Legal Advice Centre since c.1976.

Civil Litigation

Charles is a specialist in personal injury and fatal accidents, including noise induced hearing loss and industrial disease. Charles accepts professional negligence instructions, including medical negligence and cases involving solicitors and surveyors negligence.

Charles has expertise in landlord and tenant matters, including residential and service charge disputes.

Chancery & Commercial

Charles accepts instructions in relation to chancery and commercial matters. Charles specialises in commercial law and companies, including unfair prejudice, clubs & unincorporated associations, including incorporation of unincorporated associations.

Charles also accepts instructions in relation to wills, probate and the administration of estates, including Inheritance (Provision for Family and Dependents) Act 1975 and undue influence.